Sending Messages Through Worship
Allen Hahn

Long before e-mail and long before texts, people were sending messages. Solomon sent a message to Hiram, asking him to provide lumber for the building of the temple (1 Kings 5). Hiram answered with his own message, “I will do all you desire concerning the cedar and cypress logs” (1 Kings 5:8). John wrote about the message that came from God and had been declared to others: “. . . God is light and in Him is no darkness at all” (1 John 1:5). Later, he reminded readers of another message: “. . . we should love one another” (1 John 3:11).

Some messages are important. Take for example the messages we send when we engage correctly in worship. Think about four of these:

The Message to God. We send a message of respect. “Worship” literally means “to fall on the ground in front of.” We figuratively fall at God’s feet in recognition of His majesty. That respect is shown by doing exactly what God has shown He wants from us. Our message to God is, “We love You.” We offer praise and adoration because of that love. Sadly, we send the wrong message when our singing is half-hearted and our minds are occupied by things other than worship.

The Message to the World. Our message is that it is right to worship God, no matter what others do. When we take the Lord’s Supper we tell the world that we believe in His death and its benefit to us. We tell the world we will do it until He comes again.

The Message to Each Other. The message is, “We want to build up each other.” We accept Paul’s message in 1 Cor. 14:26, “Let all things be done for edification.” We gladly sing, “Bind us together, Lord. . .” And, we mean it!

The Message to Ourselves. We affirm, “This is where I ought to be. This is where I need to be. This is where I want to be.” Our worship tells us, “This will help me face the challenges ahead and will get me closer to Heaven.”

Let’s be sure the messages we send are the right ones.

Hospitality Room:

If you are attending Lads this year and plan on eating in the hospitality room, please give Allison Hines your money today! To help with cost of the hospitality room, each family member is asked to give $9.00. Eating in the hospitality room will save you a lot of money as eating out in Nashville can be very expensive.

A Minute
with Mac

The Lord has blessed us with another week of life here on earth. Our tempetures have been a little up and down, but prayerfully our spirits are not on that kind of rollercoaster ride. It is a wonderful day today to assemble and worship our Creator. I pray that our minds will be focused on Him and His Will this morning as we worship. If you are visiting with us, please know that you are our honored guest and please stick around for a few minutes after services so that we can get to know you better. If you have any questions about what is done or said in our worship service, please don't hesitate to ask.

This morning, we will be looking at our Back to the Bible lessons by Bobby Bates. I have revolved a sermon around the first part of the first lesson. Please make sure that you have a copy of the teacher's edition of the booklets (they are the large booklets). If you don't have one, come and see me or raise you hand and one will be brought to you.

This evening, Lord willing, we will be looking at Thinking Souls like the first century disciples as we look at Encouraging like Barnabas. We all need encouragement all the time, however, it seems that we criticize more than we encourage. Barnabas was a wonderful example of encouragement.

Wednesday evening, we will pick back up with our study in the book of Matthew as we continue to look at the most popular sermon ever preached, the sermon on the Mount. If I remember correctly we left off around Matthew 6:19. Please make plans to join us as we look at the life of Jesus. Remember that we have classes for all ages including a ladies class on Wednesday night.

It is going to be a great day! And I am so glad that we get to worship our God—together!
