FOR TODAY

Today I will love myself as God has taught me to so that I will be able to love my neighbor as myself.

I will live today as a forgiven person and do the best I can to concentrate upon important things of life; especially people.

In the midst of a hectic pace, I will do all I can today to live joyfully. I will major in loving people today. I will try to do the small things that are important such as telling my family I love them and talking in an encouraging way to someone who is down.

I will try to adhere to the things that I really believe in and maintain my integrity today. I will try to keep my commitment to the people I love and live with God’s inner peace in my heart.

I will try to value every minute of my life and smell the roses of today.

I will try to stay aware of the fact that I do not have a permanent home here but am traveling toward that permanent home which God has prepared for me.

I will remember, therefore, that I live with eternity in my breast and that if my life on this earth should end today, I shall have just begun my real life. I will remember with the psalmist who said in Psalm 31:15, “My times are in thy hands.” I will remember that God is wiser than I am and I will commit my days unto Him.

Why is hell so awful?

One, it was created for satan and his demons.

Secondly, because people don't realize that hell is the absence of God.

There's no air in hell...because God is a breath of life.

There is no peace in hell...because God is the prince of peace.

There is no comfort in hell...because God is the comforter.

There is no love in hell...because God is love.

Hell is darkness...because God is the light.

You don't have to go there!

But there is only one way to escape it, and that is through salvation in the name of Jesus Christ.

K. Lankford
