Psalm 119:114*

Abraham and God
Bill Dillon

Among the greatest names in the roll call of faithful saints down through the ages, the name of Abraham must surely rank high on the list. Abraham's distinction lies in the fact that Abraham listened to God, loved God and leaned upon God.

Abraham Listened to God. In Genesis 22:1, God spoke the patriarch's name and Abraham replied, "Behold, here I am." God proceeded to tell Abraham an awful thing. God does not always speak to us the things we like to hear. Very likely, any other command from the Lord would have been desired instead. The Lord, however, often calls upon His people for unpleasant tasks.

Abraham Loved God. Abraham's love was so great that when God told him to offer his only son Isaac as a sacrifice, that faithful servant of God did as he was asked, without argument, excuse or delay. Abraham attained the victory of faith over the temptation to disobey what amounted to the hardest test of his life (Genesis 22:2-5). In anguish of soul, Abraham traveled to the place God designated. The great servant of the Lord erected an altar and put wood for fire in place. Abraham proceeded to stretch forth his hand to slay Isaac. This was no bluff job, no pretension. But, the angel of the Lord spoke and stayed the man of faith's hand and Isaac was spared (Genesis 22:9-11). Abraham's faith was tried and tested and proven to be solid and strong. Actions do speak louder than words! Instead of Isaac, a ram became the sacrifice (Genesis 22:12, 13). God makes a way for those who listen to Him.

Abraham Leaned Upon God. While we want God to listen to us when we pray, it is equally important for us to listen to Him. If we don't stop and listen, we may never know God's will for our lives. Our faith will go untested and an untested faith is not worth having. As Abraham listened, loved and leaned on God so we must do the same. Leaning upon the Lord allows Him to do for us all the things we cannot do for ourselves. We need to appreciate a life of living, active and obedient faith and the hope such a life gives us for the word which is to come.

The Shiloh
Scoop

What a wonderful opportunity we have before us! While we all truly miss Mckinley and his family, the work that they have put into this congregation can be the catalyst for tremendous growth not only here for the group of Christians meeting at Shiloh, but for the work of the kingdom throughout the Greenhill area!

During this phase of change and transition, we may see a number of familiar and new faces occupy the pulpit. While the speaker may change, the Word of God will remain constant. Our mission here at Shiloh will remain constant. We will continue to think souls, not only the ones that occupy this building but those souls that occupy the surrounding area. We will continue to build upon the things that Mckinley has tried to get started here at this place.

So throughout this period of change, remember to remain positive. Remain steadfast. Remain joyful. Remain loving. Remain serving. Remain godly. Remain righteous. Remain upright. Remain moral. Remain kind. Remain forgiving. In other words, remain living a life that would honor our Savior. A life that would honor His sacrifice.

Not only should we continue the efforts that we have undertaken, perhaps now is the time to become even more involved. If you have found yourself in a situation where you have no role in the church, we can help you get involved. God has blessed every one of us with particular gifts and abilities. God expects us to use them!

“Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law? And he said to him, ‘You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.’” (Matthew 22:36, 37)
