Maturing in the Lord

Paul Mowrer

I enjoy doing the occasional woodworking project. It keeps my hands busy and allows extra time for thinking on life. To help improve my abilities in woodworking I subscribed to a wood magazine. I was excited to get my first issue and began the process of becoming a master craftsman! As I perused through that first issue, I quickly realized that I had bitten off more than I could chew. There were tools and terms totally strange to me. I have since subscribed to a different magazine more on my level.

Sadly, there are many Christians today who suffer through the same problem in their walk with Christ. The initial desire is to know the Lord to the greatest extent, but find in their daily reading of His Word a world far beyond comprehension. Terms can be hard to understand and a culture far removed from our current lifestyle. The more we turn the pages, the more lost we become, until giving up altogether.

The Hebrews writer addresses this very problem in the early church. The writer chastises Christians for their lack of maturity in Christ. Though they ought to be teachers by now, they are needing others to teach the elementary principles of the oracles of God. They were needing the milk of the word, not solid food (Heb. 5:12-14). But the Christians were encouraged to leave behind the elementary teachings and press on to maturity (6:1-2).

What the writer is addressing is the problem of apathy in the church then, and today. Have we become comfortable where we are in our lives with Christ? Are we satisfied (status quo) in our relationship with the Lord? Have we ceased striving to know more about the Lord? Have we become comfortable with the same well known stories, instead of delving into the greater “mysteries” of the Word? The Hebrew writer continues his challenge by describing the immature [apathetic] Christian as ground that either brings forth useful vegetation or ground yielding thorns and thistles with its unfortunate end to be burned (Heb. 6:4-8).

Where are you in your walk with the Lord? Yes, there are passages which are difficult to understand, but if we will apply ourselves to knowing God, He will bless us with a greater understanding, leading us to a full life for Him and the promise of eternal life! I hope and pray that you are maturing in the Lord in all ways: church attendance, a greater knowledge of His Word, serving the Lord (as you serve others), and reaching out to the lost.

“Notes in the Key of A”

Good Morning and Welcome!
Thank you for being here with us this morning!

We have a lot in the community who are dealing with this virus, whether they actually have it or are having to quarantine because they were in close contact with someone who has it. Please remember to pray for them everyday!

We continue to publish weekly content.
Be sure you are checking it out!

Thank you for working! Thank you for loving!
Thank you for growing!

Encourage someone this week!

I love you,
Wes

Rejoicing:

We rejoice as Lily McCain Crutcher responded to the invitation Wednesday night asking for prayers and forgiveness for anything that she might had done or said to anyone that was unbecoming as a Christian. We appreciate Lily’s kind and honest heart.

Sunday Night Service:

The Elders would like your input on our at home Sunday night services. At this time, Wes is putting three different classes for three different age groups on YouTube and Mckinley is doing a recorded Psalms class. Now that we are back to in person meetings on Wednesday night the question and answer has been placed on hold. Would you like to move the question and answer to a live stream service on Sunday night at 5 p.m. or keep it like it currently is. Please let Mckinley and Wes know which you would prefer today. You may text them or tell them in person. Thanks
